NAGI-GATANA

BattleBlades Inc.
- discerning professionals -

Nagi-gatana - when the elegance and beauty of the finest traditional japanese katana meets the range of motion and raw power of Naginata. The nagasa is slightly shorter than one of a katana, with a wider motohaba and wider blade toward the tip. It has a shorter tsuka than in a Naginata but a wider blade than in a katana. The curved blade provides a long cutting surface without increasing the overall length of the weapon. The weight combined with curved blade ensures maximum cutting power. It's forged from T10 steel and embellished with our aggressive visible real clay tempered hamon and double bo-hi.

This sword comes in an embroidered BattleBlades Inc. silk sword bag with a serial numbered certificate of authenticity.
